Institute: TAFE NSW - Sydney Institute English Language Centre (SITEC), Ultimo College

Before coming to Australia, Hye Jin completed a Bachelor in Commercial TV and Public Relations in Korea and worked for four years for the Busan Biennale Organisation Committee. She decided to improve her English and gain a more international perspective so she came to Australia in 2007 to study English.

“I chose the language centre at TAFE NSW - Sydney Institute (SITEC) for my English course, and I made the right choice. At SITEC, I could really feel my English improving. The class was so intensive and the teachers really challenged me to work hard and do my best. My time there also helped me to acclimatise to life in Australia. I studied at SITEC for 15 weeks and felt confident to continue my Masters at Sydney University.”

“Sydney was the best choice for me - it’s a great city with a good reputation for education. I was attracted by the easy-going, friendly Australian lifestyle and compared with other English-speaking countries, Australia is really affordable.”

Sydney is a great study destination for international students. Renowned for its beautiful landscape, climate, friendly people, affordable accommodation, and quality education and training.
