“The passionate environment at the Design Centre is really important – we live, eat and breathe the course. Right from the start, we have to work just like you do in industry. Whenever we do an assignment, we have to present it just as we will to clients in the future.

The best thing about the course is the level of challenge. It’s fantastic training – it really prepares you for every possible experience and situation. We’ve got a great group – we motivate each other and compete in a really positive way. When one of us does some outstanding work, we all look at that and know that’s the standard we want to follow. When I look at the first assignment I did and the last one – I can really see how much I’ve learned.”
