Country: Bangladesh

Course: Diploma of Information Technology (Network Engineering)

Institute: TAFE NSW – Sydney Institute

“I attended the Keshabpur Pilot School in Bangladesh, but I wanted to study Network Engineering to improve my skills.

I heard about TAFE NSW at an education fair, as well as from a friend who is now studying at university after he finished his TAFE Diploma.

The teaching quality of TAFE NSW – Sydney Institute is marvellous. I am very happy with my teachers. If I have any problems with my study I can ask my teachers – they are always happy to help students.

I love Sydney – it’s my dream city. TAFE NSW Sydney campus is the best campus for me. It is in the central part of the city. My campus has a good canteen, coffee shop, bookshop, library and student association where I can spend time with my friends. Campus life is really good. I have a lot of Bangladeshi friends at this campus and I think TAFE NSW is a place where Bangladeshi students like to study!”
