Tuan Ngo travelled from his home city, Saigon, to study in Australia. Tuan's extended family lived in western Sydney.

"My family had studied at TAFE NSW and told me it was a good place to get a great education with well-recognised qualifications."

Tuan chose to study the Diploma of Community Welfare Work at TAFE NSW - Western Sydney Institute Nirimba College.

"I wanted to study something meaningful and had aspirations to migrate to Australia to be with my family. This course seemed perfect for me."

When Tuan arrived in Australia in 2006 he lived with his relatives and studied intensive English at TAFE NSW before starting his Community Welfare course.

"I really enjoyed my English course at the TAFE English Language Centre at Liverpool College because the teachers were very kind and I improved my English a lot. The teachers always pushed me to try my best and to help me stop feeling shy."

Tuan enjoyed his Australian education experience at Nirimba College. Nirimba College is in the Blacktown area, a diverse community with people from over 30 different cultures. He was impressed with the dedication of his teachers and the friendliness of his fellow students which made studying in Australia a very pleasurable experience.

Tuan was so impressed that he recommended TAFE NSW to his sister who decided to come to Australia to study too.
